Did you recently experience a storm with hail, high winds, or heavy rain?
As a Peak View customer, we want your building and assets to stay safe and dry.
Check for these three easy indicators that your roof may have taken damage:

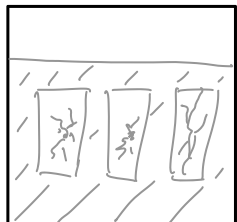

TREE DAMAGE

Cracked limbs, loss of leaves, and even flattened flowerbeds can be an indicator you have experienced a damaging storm.

DENTED CARS

Minor or major dents to cars in your parking lot should result in immediate attention to your roof.

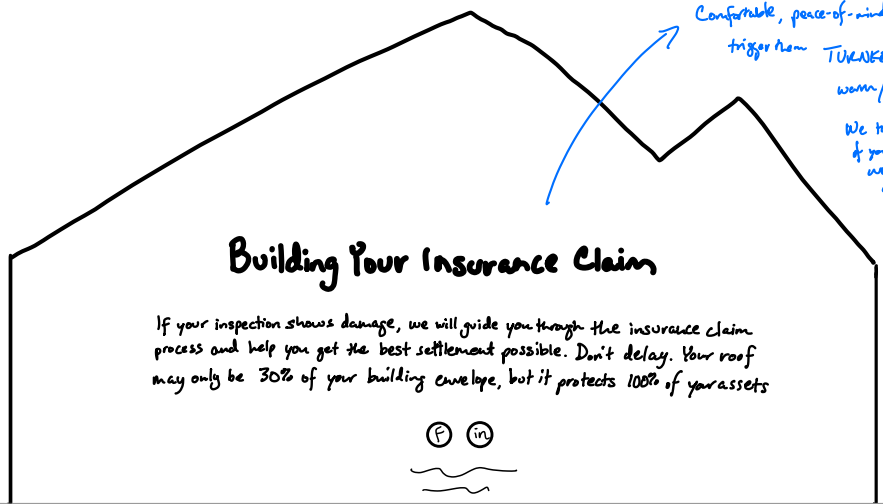

CRACKED WINDOWS

Damaged skylights are a common replacement during a hail storm, but the surrounding roof is just as important in the long-term.

Are your assets protected? Schedule a free inspection with us and we'll be there in under 72 hours to assess damage.

Building Your Insurance Claim

If your inspection shows damage, we will guide you through the insurance claim process and help you get the best settlement possible. Don't delay. Your roof may only be 30% of your building envelope, but it protects 100% of your assets

Comfortable, peace-of-mind trigger from TURKEY, warm/fuzzy. We took care of you once, we can do it.

Roofs with storm damage are prone to leaks and accelerated weathering.

Yet 99% of homeowners either do not know they have damage or delay their inspection leading to higher costs of repair and even a reroof. After wind, hail, and heavy rain, an inspection ensures your envelope (waterproof integrity) is intact. Look for these signs to tell if you need a Peak View inspection:

- Your neighbor has a roofer on their roof
- Your car experienced damage from hail
- Your skylight or windows are cracked

It's easy to think that a roof without holes in it "made it through the storm." Yet 99% of homeowners either do not know they have damage or delay their inspection leading to higher costs of repair and even a reroof. After wind, hail, and heavy rain, an inspection ensures your envelope (waterproof integrity) is intact. Look for these signs to tell if you need a Peak View inspection:

- Your neighbor has a roofer on their roof
- Your car experienced damage from hail
- Your skylight or windows are cracked

Peace-of-mind. One of the many benefits of working with Peak View.
